Cable Despatches.

St. Petersburg, August 10.—A treaty of peace was concluded yesterday between Prussia and Bokhara.

London, August 10.—An American war steamer has been ordered to Crete.

The Brayhead accident was exaggerated. There were only three coaches precipitated into the sea, and four persons killed outright.

Paris, August 10.—The Turkish Admiral took a despatch from a servant of Minister Morris, who has laid the matter before the Turkish Government for redress. The Porte's reply has not transpired.

Florence, August 10.—The cholera is raging with considerable violence in Palermo, Sicily.

News Items.

New Orleans, August 9.—Advices from Havana of the 5th state that a society is being formed to promote emigration of white laborers from Spain.

Loud complaints are made on account of the discovery that almost every piece of gold coin in circulation on the island is clipped. Many doubloons are daily found to be short $2 and $3.

The Diario de la Marina, of the 4th, insists that the United States Government is a party to the indiscriminate shooting in Mexico by the Liberals, and calls for a European coalition against America, in order to cause common rights to be respected throughout this continent.

The British steamer Lyre arrived this morning from Vera Cruz, and reports that Santa Anna had been brought to Vera Cruz by a Mexican man-of-war, and was to be tried for conspiracy.

A reward of $10,000 has been offered for Marquez.

The diplomatic corps is expected to leave in a body.

Everything is quiet at the capital. Order is speedily being restored by the energy of Juarez. Great trouble from the Indians continues.

The Standard, of Paduca, says a courier passed Columbia, with news of the capture of Marquez at the hacienda Presidiosa.

The Mexican Government schooner Juarez arrived at Vera Cruz on the 30th, having on board Santa Anna's wife and family.

Baltimore, August 10.—A Democratic procession, while returning from a pole-raising to-day, was fired upon by a crowd, and two persons wounded.

Quebec, August 10.—Ten houses were burnt here to-day. In consequence of a disarrangement of the fire telegraph, no alarm was given.

Chicago, August 10.—Several members of the Board of Trade have been arrested for gambling on grain, under the recent law making selling short gambling.

New York, August 10.—Specie shipments to-day $355,000.

Newark, N. J., August 10.—The flood burst the canal aqueduct and reservoirs, flooding the Northern part of the city; loss $100,000.

Charleston, August 10.—Sailed—Steamers Manhattan, New York; Falcon, Baltimore; barque Jellestedt, Liverpool.

Mobile, August 10.—Mayor Gustavus Horton was to-day arrested by United States Commissioner W. D. Turner, for violation of the civil rights bill, in the case of a negro named Johnson. The case consisted in the banishment of the negro, who had lost a leg in the Union service. Horton gave bail for $2,000 for his appearance on Monday.

Augusta, August 10.—The Western Union Company's line was completed to Tallahassee, Fla., to-day, and is now ready for business. The line to Quincy will be completed next week.

Richmond, August 10.—The ministers of the Gospel in this city have held a meeting, and adopted an address in reply to Gov. Pierpont's charge of disloyalty, in which they say that since the restoration of the Government of the United States over the Southern States, they have in no instance exhibited disloyalty in their pulpits, or used them as political agencies against said Government; and that they have in no instance propagated from them what are termed rebel sentiments; and last of all, that they never have, in discharge of their ministerial duties, expressed, directly or indirectly, a hope of the establishment of any other than a republican form of government in this country.

Berry Amos, a well known sporting man, was shot, mortally, this morning, by Moses Levi.

Washington, August 10.—It is said that the Cabinet have agreed that the President can remove Stanton, but must first suspend him, under the second section of the tenure-of-office bill.

Internal revenue receipts, to-day, $415,000; for the week $3,744,000.

The receipts of the Central Pacific Railroad for the month of July amount to $175,000 in gold.

The following are the closing scenes of the Surratt trial: At 1 o'clock, the prisoner was brought into the court room, and assigned to the seat occupied by him during the trial, beside his counsel. He came into court smiling, and seemed in good spirits, as he chatted with his counsel. Merrick made an allusion to the report that an attempt would be made at rescue, whereat the prisoner seemed much amused. At five minutes past 1, Judge Fisher resumed his seat upon the bench, and the jury were brought in. By this time, the room was much crowded. The foreman stated that they were unable to agree, and handed Judge Fisher a letter to that effect. The Judge stated that he had received several letters of a similar character, and as there seemed no possible chance of a verdict from this jury, he would discharge them. This was objected to by Mr. Bradley, but the objection was overruled. Judge Fisher then stated that as Mr. Bradley had, on the 2d of July, during a recess of the court, used insulting and threatening language towards him, he ordered his name to be struck from the roll of attorneys. On the adjournment of the court, Bradley followed Fisher and handed him what was supposed to be a challenge, but it proved to be only an acceptance of a verbal challenge given by the Judge during the trial.

The dilemma is this: If Bradley is liable for accepting, Fisher is liable for sending a challenge, the punishment for which is fine and imprisonment for five years. The interest in the Surratt trial yields to the Fisher and Bradley quarrel.
